

NATIONAL LAW UNIVERSITY, DELHI

LL.M. (Professional), Semester-II (Batch of 2020)

End Semester Examinations, July-2021

Paper: Sustainable Development

Total Marks: 100

Instructions:

1. Attempt any five. All questions carry equal marks.
 2. No clarification shall be sought on the question paper.
-

1. “The restrictions imposed on developing countries put an embargo against their aspirational goals”. Critically evaluate the above statement in the light of present discourse in international environmental law.
2. “The jurisprudence developed by Supreme Court of India in the area of Sustainable Development is progressive one”. Elaborate the above statement with the help of case laws.
3. How the principles of inter-generational and intra-generational equities have been operationalized under international law? Support your answer with the help of appropriate provisions of declarations/conventions.
4. Whether the relationship between ‘Free Trade’ and ‘Environment’ is always destined to be antagonistic? Explain with the help of illustrations.
5. “Precautionary principle has altered the then extant meaning of liability under Environmental Law”. Elucidate.
6. Write short notes on the following-
 - a) Social component of Sustainable Development.
 - b) Johannesburg Summit on Sustainable Development.